

Nick Williams to retire from Devonshire House

I hope that you and your family are keeping well during the global Covid pandemic.

After 13 years at Devonshire House I will be retiring from the practice on the 18th May this year. I have enjoyed my time here and it has been my privilege to look after you. My goal has been to help you reach a position of stable oral health and to feel confident about coming to see us. I will greatly miss seeing you, and I thank you for placing your faith in me to look after your needs.

I have been fortunate to work alongside excellent colleagues and support staff, who are passionate about providing the very best in patient care; I know you will continue to be very well looked after by them after my departure.

Kind regards

Nick Williams
