

How to care for your dental implants

- Your new teeth must be cared for and checked regularly, just like your natural teeth.
- Brushing twice a day with an electric toothbrush and cleaning, as recommended by your dentist and dental hygienist, is imperative to maintain the health of the gums around the implant(s).
- You will need regular check-ups and hygiene visits every four to six months to begin with. These are charged at our normal appointment fees.
- All appointments included in your treatment cost will be detailed in your written treatment plan.
